HISTORY

One of the newest additions to luxury cruising in Lan Ha Bay, Indochine Cruise, has been a project in the making for the past two decades. Indochine Cruise is a part of Indochina Sails, a highly respected cruise company with a legacy beginning during the birth of tourism in Halong Bay. Its mother company, the Huong Hai Group, has over 20 years of experience in this incredible corner of Vietnam and was the first to revolutionise itineraries with overnight cruising.

From the very start, Indochine Cruise had a vivid identity that set it apart from other cruises in the Halong region. Its style is forever tied to Vietnam's colonial period; the late 18th and early 19th century rule of the French over Vietnam, Cambodia and Laos, when art and aesthetic took a distinctively European turn. The unique blending of colonial French and feudal Vietnamese motifs finds a perfect marriage on board Indochine Cruise and governs the design of the boat across all of its areas.

Indochine Cruise is built to the highest of international standards, ensuring optimum comfort and safety. Technologies include cutting edge anti-shake and sound insulation technology from the Netherlands, along with advanced technology for the eco-friendly treatment of wastewater.

THE LOBBY

This newest member of the Indochina Sails family is comprised of 43 and 29 spacious and luxurious cabins, each a medley of rich oak, high windows and private balconies for making the most of incredible views.

Indochine Cruise features two dining rooms, a bar and a rooftop sundeck alongside a spa and jacuzzi plunge pool. Every material is sourced locally and every intricate detail is the handiwork of skilled, local craftsmen

TONKIN RESTAURANT

Inspiration for the Tonkin Restaurant is drawn from the welcoming and luxury style of French Indochina. Through the à la carte and set menus served here, experienced chefs provide a varied selection of Vietnamese and international cuisines with an emphasis on locally caught seafood.

Dishes are matched by the perfect beverage accompaniment, served at the bar in a menu of aperitifs, spirits, cocktails, beer and a selection of fine wines from around the world. The bar is located in the refined lounge - an ideal spot to relax beside the inviting Jacuzzi plunge pool.

Our eco-friendly and responsible attitude

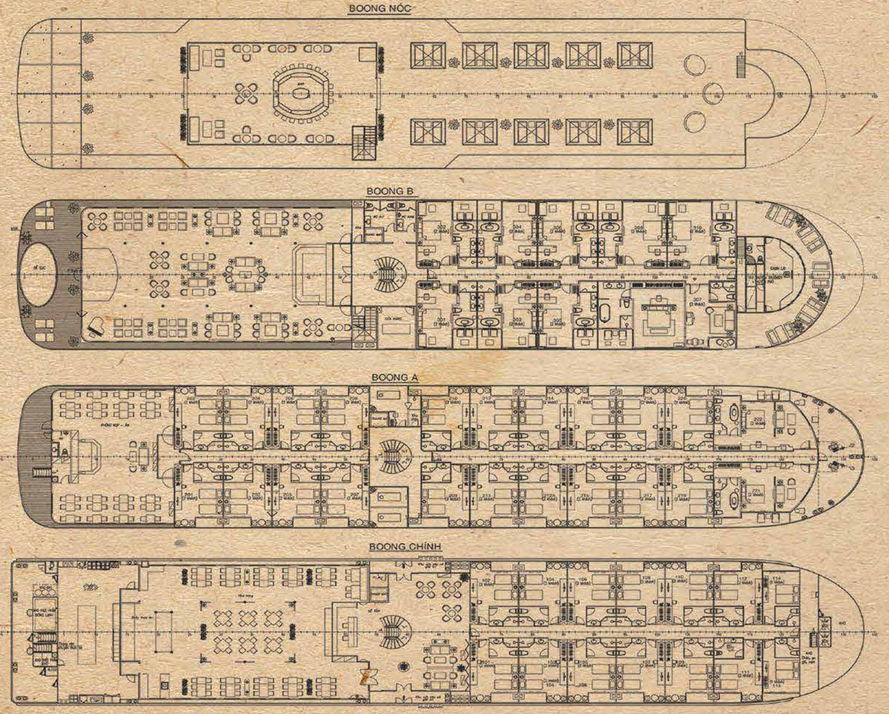

Indochine Cruise sails the lesser known route of Lan Ha Bay, which takes in the majesty of tree-topped mountains across a much quieter landscape. The beaches, islands, villages and shimmering waters of Lan Ha display their beauty along cruise paths visited by far fewer tourist boat.

The sanctity of Lan Ha Bay that inspired Indochine Cruise to adopt an eco-friendly and responsible attitude to its cruising. Paper straws and refillable water bottles are used throughout the cruise, as is Japanese technology that ensures the 100% safe disposal of wastewater into the sea. The locals of Viet Hai, one of the villages featured on the Indochine Cruise itinerary, benefit from visiting passengers in both a financial sense and as a way to preserve their antique culture.
