DESTINATION UGANDA

Uganda, popularly known as the “Pearl of Africa” a slogan named by Sir Winston Churchil, is such a beautiful African garden. Home to the source of The Nile, A Primate Capital of the world, and a birders haven, with half the population of the endagered mountain Gorillas and rolling mystical Rwenzori ranges that are ever snow caped, A visit to this part of Africa leaves you with ever lasting memories of happy people, countless bird species, amazing nature and wildlife plus countless photos.

DESTINATION RWANDA

Rwanda is one of East Africa’s expensive destinations yet it accommodates every kind of travelers despite their udgets. Luxury is the brand painted on Destination Rwanda, but every dollar, every minute spent at the airport and lanes to the country is worth the experience you get while you here. The greatest attraction here is the encounter with a family of Mountain gorillas at the Volcanoes National Park. The park is also home to Golden monkeys, has Volcanoes you can climb, and was base to former American Primatologist Dian Fossey.

hen you head to the southwest, you track Chimpanzees, colobus monkeys, watch stunning birdlife and walk on the anopy of one of Africa’s Oldest Forest-Nyungwe National Park.Next to it on the North, is Lake Kivu, swim or kayak its waters. In the East, you venture into the Savannah and lakes of the Revived Akagera National Park. See the Big five, a chance to see the prehistoric Shoebill, cruise on the Lake Ihema, and fly Royal Balloons over the dramatic ndscape. The city (Kigali) is an excellent city with several museums like the Genocide Memorial, the Belgian Peace Keepers Memorial, some great night spots, it is attractive and neat. All the tours start here. Let us know of your Rwanda travel Plans, and let our safari experts narrow down Rwanda safari options for you.

DESTINATION CONGO

D R Congo is one of Africa’s wildlife and natural attractions rich countries. It has a number of unique spots, wildlife reserves, culture, and geological wonders yet to be found elsewhere on the Continent. It has 7 national parks and we go to 2 basically for primates (Virunga National Park for mountain gorillas & Kahuzi-Biega for Low land gorillas). In addition to these, it has 57 game reserves and has a lot of potential if it was stable. It is a destination for travelers that are adventurous, risk takers, and who would like to explore the dense rainforests and that doesn’t expect the 5 star amenities, however some parks have top and serene lodges with beautiful surroundings and well located. The wilderness areas and encounters here are totally unforgettable adventures.

Add chimpanzees at Kibale, Nyungwe Forest, golden monkeys at Volcanoes, and Mgahinga and the Low land gorillas in the Congo's Kahuzi Biega. Make Us your primate safari plug.

Meet the people of the Region

The idea of an African ‘cultural experience’ sometimes makes us cringe. It brings to mind superficial tribal dancing and local people portrayed demeaning, stereotypical roles for tourists to take photos of. Rest assured: this is absolutely not what we offer.

We send visitors to interact with local people who live in Africa's more fragile, original cultures unless we can be sure that it will be beneficial to both our visitors and their hosts.

Search for the glittering prizes of the forests and savannas

East Africa is a fantastic region on the continent for birdwatching holidays, as the range of environments make for a hugely diverse bird population. The geographical range is vast, with montane forests, wetlands, marshes, and semi-deserts.
There are country specific endemics, migrants and We have bird-watchers among our the Expert Africa team and often put together many tailor-made trips for travelers who want to go on an ornithologically focused holiday, so can advise you on the best lodges and areas for your birding interests.

Find the best wildlife safari in Africa for you

However, there is such a variety of options – about 90% of our trips are wildlife focused – that making blanket recommendations for what we think are “the best wildlife safaris in Africa" would be impossible.

Choosing the wildlife safari which is best for your trip to Africa depends enormously on you – what you want to see, how you like to travel and what kind of experiences you want, but we help you plan.
