SOCHI PARK

The first theme park in Russia, which was included in the top 25 best parks in Europe in 2016. On an area of 25 hectares, there is everything for those who want to be in a fairy tale — themed attractions for the whole family that have no analogues in the world. The Bogatyr Castle Hotel, the extreme slides "Serpent Gorynych" and "Quantum Leap", the pendulum with 360° rotation "Perpetual Motion" and the country's largest free-fall tower "Firebird" are at your service.

You can also visit the dolphinarium in the park, watch various shows, take part in quests, test yourself in a rope park, visit an eco-village or test your strength in scientific shows.

SKYPARK

Sochi Sky Park was opened in 2014 on the territory of the relict forest of the Akhshtyr Gorge above the Mzymta River, where rare boxwood, jasmine and other trees and plants sprout. Skypark is located in a unique natural location – the Akhshtyr Gorge of the Sochi National Park. Here you will walk along the longest suspension pedestrian bridge in Russia, which is among the top 13 most impressive bridges in the world according to CNN, fly on the world's highest swing, be able to jump from the highest bungee platform in Russia, ride a super-high-speed trolley and see the world from a bird's-eye view, flying on Zipline. Skypark is a park of unique impressions!

The park has the world's longest suspended pedestrian bridge SkybRidge. Its length is 439 m . Guests will also find a rope park, observation decks, an amphitheater.The main highlight of the skypark is high—altitude attractions. One of the highest bungee jumps in Europe with a height of 207 and 69 m and the highest swing in the world at a height of 170 m. MegaTroll rides with a length of 700 m and ZipLine are also at your service.

RESORTS KRASNAYA POLYANA AND ROSA KHUTOR

The mountain entertainment resort Krasnaya Polyana and Rosa Khutor is located in the foothills of the Main Caucasian Ridge. The high level of service, architectural sophistication and picturesque landscapes of the nature reserve attract hundreds of thousands of tourists from all over the world to the resort every year. This is a territory for any audience. All necessary related infrastructure: shops, shopping malls, a park, a skate park, children's clubs and sports grounds and walking areas. The atmosphere of 24/7 entertainment is formed by restaurants, bars with live vocals, discos, karaoke, as well as a large gambling area with a rich concert and show program. At an altitude of +540 m there are 5*, 4*,3* hotels, apartments. The mountain river Mzymta stretches along the resort: its embankment with recreation areas and wide pedestrian zones are ideal for walking. Due to the special location of the mountains, our resort has the longest skiing season – from December to June. In winter, we offer about 30 kilometers of ski trails of different difficulty levels, illuminated trails for evening skiing and trails with artificial snow. In winter, gondola, chairlift and towpath types of cable cars operate. The total capacity is up to 2400 people/hour, one of the highest in our country. The resort has instructor schools, a children's ski club and ski equipment rentals. to vacationers.

SOCHI SEAPORT

The seaport— an architectural monument of federal significance, built in 1955 by architects Karo Alabyan and Leonid Karlik, has long been one of the business cards of the resort. The complex consists of a two-storey building topped with a tower with a spire 71 m high and decorated with sculptures by Vladimir Ingal.

CANYON "WHITE ROCKS"

Canyon "White rocks"
- this is a picturesque corner in the valley of the Bolshaya Khosta River in the Navalishinsky gorge at the foot of the Caucasus Mountains.

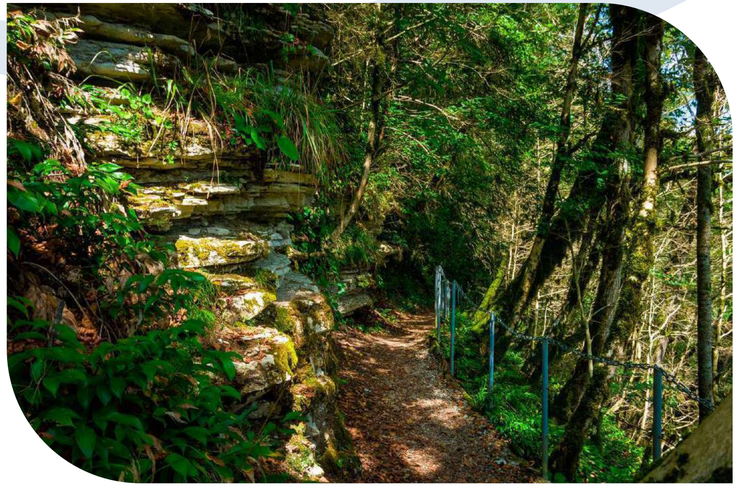

The complex is a forest trail that will lead you to a deep canyon with waterfalls and a font.

On the route you will meet a large number of stunning locations.

Jupiter LLC

YEW-BOXWOOD GROVE

The business card of the resort city of Sochi, one of the most easily accessible and iconic places on the coast. yew-boxwood grove remains a fabulous place, a visit to which will charm even the most indifferent to nature people. The yew-boxwood grove somewhat resembles the Sochi terrencourt. The same neat concrete path in the middle of nature. But if nature is a toy around the Sochi health trail – on the one hand there is a railway, on the other hand there is a track every now and then, then here it is the most real.

PSAHO CANYON

A canyon with giant tectonic faults, buried in a dense virgin forest, looks like a "Jurassic Park" hidden from people. Looking at the ferns and lichens on the multi-layered layers of rocks, it seems that dinosaurs still live here. And although there have been no giants in these places for a long time, but to this day the rarest Colchian boxwood is growing, this species is 20 million years old!

AHUN TOWER

Mount Akhun is headed by a luxurious Romanesque-style structure, the tower appeared on the hill in 1936. Mount Akhun is rightfully considered the best viewing platform on the entire Black Sea coast of the Krasnodar Territory.

SOUTH OF RUSSIA

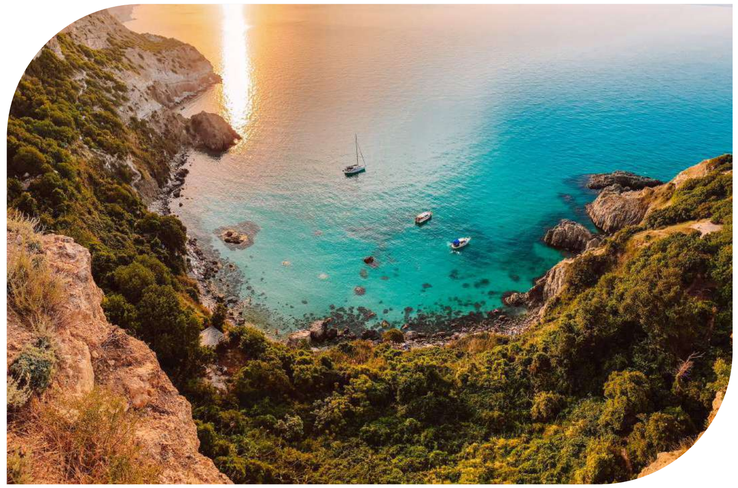

CRIMEA

Crimea is extraordinarily beautiful and fanned with romance. No wonder artists, poets and writers loved to come here. For tourists, Crimea is a real El Dorado. Picturesque mountains, bizarre rocks, hot beaches attract like a magnet. No less impressive are man—made masterpieces - palaces, fortresses, rock towns and temples. People come here to meditate on the seashore and ride a bike through the mountains. If you do not take into account vacationers, most of all lovers of hiking and climbing come to the peninsula.

Koktebel, Yalta, Sevastopol — these names caress the ear of the traveler. It's hard to believe that the peninsula became a popular tourist destination only 150 years ago. Now about 8 million tourists come to Crimea during the year. More than 11 thousand historical and cultural monuments and 87 natural monuments are officially registered on the peninsula. The vast majority of them are located on the southern coast of Crimea.

THE BEST SIGHTS OF CRIMEA

The Grand Canyon of the Crimea. The giant cleft begins at the Yalta — Bakhchisarai road and stretches for 3.5 km along the valley of the Kokkozka River. The height of the sheer walls reaches 300 meters. The hits of the canyon are the source of Pania, the Blue Lake and the "Bath of Youth".

Jupiter LLC

VALLEY OF GHOSTS

IVERSKY (RESURRECTION) GATE

The original Resurrection Gate with two arches was built as part of the Kitaygorodsky wall in 1535 for defensive purposes – they were intended to repel enemy attacks from advantageous positions. In 1556, Ivan the Terrible installed a cage with lions at the gate, donated by the King of England, after which the gate became known as the Lion Gate. In 1669, a chapel was built over the gate specifically for the icon of Our Lady of Iver. The Iver Chapel was demolished in 1929, and a worker's figure was erected in its place. In 1993, the gate was reconstructed and the chapel was restored to its original appearance.

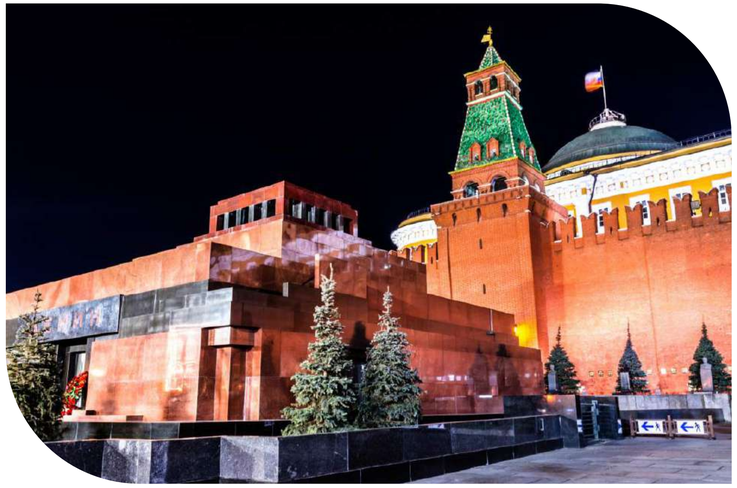

V. I. LENIN 'S MAUSOLEUM

Six days after Lenin's death, the first wooden tomb in the shape of a cube with two extensions on the sides was built by architect Shchusev on the site of the tribunes from which the leader spoke to the proletarians. In 1925, an international competition was held for the best design of a stone mausoleum, and Shchusev was again entrusted with the construction of a new tomb made of granite and labrador. Construction was completed in 1930. The general idea of the stone mausoleum resembled an old structure, but it was 4.5 times larger in area and three meters taller.

CENTRAL PART OF RUSSIA

ST PETERSBURG

HERMITAGE

If we were choosing the most important and iconic landmark of St. Petersburg, we would certainly give this title to the Hermitage. It is the largest historical and cultural museum in Russia, occupying 6 historical buildings at the same time, the main of which is the Winter Palace. It is hard to imagine that 250 years ago the Hermitage was a private collection of Catherine II, and now the museum is visited by more than 5 million people a year.

PETER AND PAUL FORTRESS

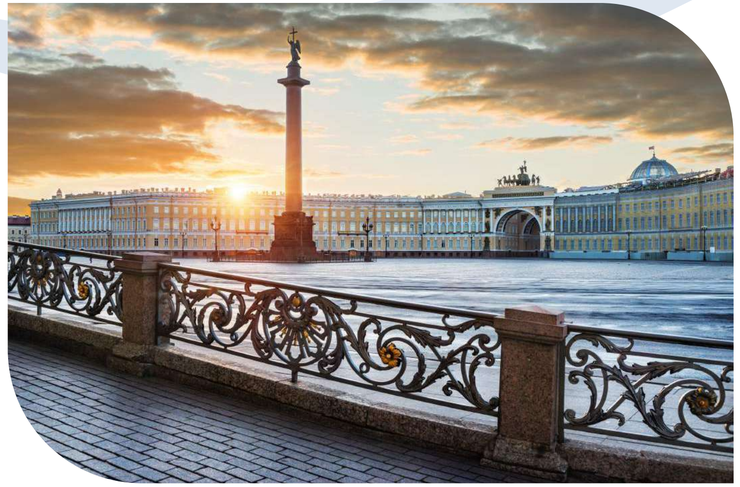

The Peter and Paul Fortress is the place from where St. Petersburg began to grow in 1703. Built for defense, it did not participate in any battle, thanks to which it is perfectly preserved. Of course, now the fortress looks different than 300 years ago, but the reason for this was the constant modernization due to the demands of the time. Most of the time the Peter and Paul Fortress was a prison. It was closed in 1920, and 4 years later a museum was founded here.

PALACE SQUARE AND ALEXANDER COLUMN

Palace Square, as the main square of St. Petersburg, has seen a lot of historical events in its lifetime. Here, in December 1825, the Decembrist Uprising took place, and in October 1917, armed revolutionary detachments stormed the Winter Palace along it. Palace Square, thanks to a single architectural ensemble, is considered one of the most beautiful places in the city: the Main Headquarters, the Winter Palace, the headquarters of the Guards Troops and the Alexander Column. The latter acts as the center of the composition and was built in 1834. The pedestal of the column depicts bas-reliefs glorifying the strength of the Russian army, and on top there is a sculpture of an angel. It is noteworthy that the Alexander Column is not fixed in any way and is held due to its weight.

STARAYA LADOGA

The first capital of Russia. The main attraction is the ancient Old Ladoga fortress. There are two active monasteries, an ancient church and burial mounds in the village. According to one version, Oleg the Prophetic is buried here.

KOROBITSYNO

The center of ski tourism. Near the village there are three ski resorts at once — "Red Lake", "Snow" and "Golden Valley". Oredezh. The banks of the river have long been considered by Petersburgers the best place to relax. Dachas grew here like mushrooms after the rain. The banks of the river attract attention because they are composed of red sandstone. Fossilized mollusks can be found in the ledges.

GASTRONOMIC GUIDE TO RUSSIA

Jupiter LLC

RUSSIAN FOOD

Today it is very diverse, it is a huge number of soups, second courses, pies with a variety of fillings, pancakes, jelly and fruit drinks. One hundred points to the uniqueness of Russian cuisine adds kvass, on the basis of which everyone makes their favorite okroshka.

OSSETIAN FOOD

Meat in all possible forms. The kebab and baked duck here are just fantastic. And who hasn't heard about the famous Ossetian pies? They have long been a real brand of the republic. Thin dough and a lot of filling. It's better to try it once than to tell it a hundred times!

CAUCASIAN FOOD

Caucasian cuisine has collected national dishes from all territories of the region: Southern Russia, South Ossetia, Georgia, Abkhazia, Dagestan, Azerbaijan and Armenia. The flavor of Caucasian cuisine dishes is based primarily on geographical location. Due to the mountainous terrain, meat and dairy products predominate in Caucasian dishes.

Jupiter LLC

KALININGRAD FOOD

Meat in all possible forms. The kebab and baked duck here are just fantastic. And who hasn't heard about the famous Ossetian pies? They have long been a real brand of the republic. Thin dough and a lot of filling. It's better to try it once than to tell it a hundred times!

TATAR FOOD

Tatarstan is a paradise for baking lovers. Echpochmaki (triangular pies), belyashi and kystyby (a dish of dough with stuffing) will not leave anyone indifferent. And in addition to baking, kebabs, local dessert chak-chak, lamb pilaf, azu and horse sausage are waiting for you.

KALMYK FOOD

Kalmykia is attractive for those who want to experience the life of nomadic tribes. The nomads' cuisine is simple and unusual at the same time, which is only worth the national dish of lamb giblets — dotur soup. The taste and smell of it is peculiar, but it is simply impossible not to try it. Another interesting dish is tea with salt, pepper and oil, which is called jombu. It warms up perfectly in bad weather.

FOOD OF THE FAR NORTH

The Far North of Russia is ideal for exotic lovers. Life here takes place in cold extreme conditions, and therefore is full of hardships and hardships. The main dishes of the northern peoples are associated with reindeer husbandry, fishing and hunting of sea animals.
In the Magadan region, you can try: venison and fish stroganina, yukola (dried-dried fish meat) and helty — dried venison.
In Yakutia, gourmets are waiting for black pudding "haan", beef tail, boiled meat "oyogos" and stroganina from foal and liver.
In Chukotka, you can try something that is not found anywhere else in Russia. Here you will be treated to whale meat, venison with lingonberries, mantak (a dish made of whale skin and fat) and seal meat. For brave gourmets, there is a kopalchen dish here. It is made from walrus or seal meat, which is stuffed into skins and buried for several months. In winter, the meat is dug out. The dish contains cadaveric poison, so try it only if you are sure of your resistance at 100500%.

CRIMEAN CUISINE

Crimea is a paradise for wine lovers. While French vineyards are quarantined, Russians will be able to appreciate the charm of Russian wines. The Massandra Winery, the Novy Svet champagne wine factory and Zolotaya Balka sparkling wines enjoy the well-deserved love of gastroturists. Here you can try on the role of a real sommelier, but only, of course, if you are already 18. And remember that wines are useful in small quantities, and excessive use of them will not only harm your health, but will also please ticktockers who will have something to shoot. If wine under the scorching Crimean sun is not really yours, then here you can still try something special. The local churchkhela made of walnuts, Crimean grapes and mulberries will not leave anyone indifferent.

FAR EASTERN FOOD

The Far East is traditionally and rightly associated with seafood, namely salmon, red fish and caviar. In the Far East, you will find an amazing sea feast: huge Kamchatka crabs, tiger shrimps, octopus, mussels and scallops, dried, salted and smoked red fish.

However, in addition to sea delicacies in each of the corners of the Far East, you will be able to surprise with something else.

Kamchatka is an appetizer of wild cherry (wild garlic), honeysuckle jam, which is not only delicious, but also removes radiation from the body, and also a fragrant drink ivan-tea.

Sakhalin Island — here you can not only appreciate seafood, but also learn how to cook them in Korean and Japanese styles. And another pearl of Sakhalin cuisine is a wild fern salad.

Vladivostok — local sweets "Bird's Milk" are deservedly loved throughout the Far East thanks to an improved recipe. The famous Ussuri balsam is also produced here. And Vladivostok is also famous for Asian street food. Korean pyang-se pies are wildly popular here. Khabarovsk is ready to surprise you... with watermelons! Yes, yes, it would seem, where can they come from in the Far East, but Khabarovsk watermelons are no worse than Astrakhan ones. And they also cook an amazing fish pate "dachshund" here.

THE WINE HOUSE FANAGORIA

The wine house "Fanagoria" is one of the largest wineries in Russia with a full production cycle: it produces seedlings of vines, grows and processes grapes, produces quiet, sparkling, dessert wines, cognacs and grape vodka under the brand "Fanagoria" with the protected geographical indication "Kuban".

THE SIKORA

The Sikora estate near Novorossiysk is one of the most modern wineries with its own wine "library" — a collection of all the wines that were produced here in different years.
