THE TEAM

Meet mariaeugeniarosas

goat.travel

Founder & Managing Director

After working for several years leading the sales teams of important DMCs in Argentina and a prestigious chain of luxury hotels in Buenos Aires, I decided to found my own company. I embarked on this project and shaped it according to my philosophy of life and work.

Enterprising, creative, and demanding, I divide my time between two great loves: my family and GOAT. I devote hours to the design of each proposal, paying special attention to detail, trying to arouse curiosity and captivate each traveler throughout each day of the journey. This is our trademark and commitment to each client who chooses GOAT.

Meet gabrielperez

goat.travel

Co-Founder & Director of Business Development

I am professional with a vast experience in the Hospitality, Corporate Travel, Meetings and events industries. My focus is Business Development, running the Sales and marketing team where my target is to create close, honest, and long-lasting relationships with clients from our main markets. When I decided to join Eugenia to Co-Found GOAT, I brought skills and tools from previous jobs and incorporated the personal touch for a self-owned business. The result is a Boutique High-End Destination Management Company called GOAT.

Meet paulapucheta

goat.travel

Director of Sales and Operations

My professional career started when I worked for an important DCM in Argentina and later, I had the chance to represent prestigious luxury hotels in Argentina. I Managed Leisure and Corporate accounts, with FITs, groups, incentives, and events. When delivering high standards of service, I believe in a restless and hard-working spirit with and permanent learning attitude. Oriented to service and committed to improvement, I always expect to deliver the best experience for our clients.

Meet ceciliabenatti

Bookkeeper

I have been part of different teams in different industries and from each experience, I have acquired very valuable skills and tools. To do the bookkeeping of a company that provides very high standards of service, you've got to be very detail-oriented and organized to keep every number in the right place. I provide data analysis and results reporting to the Executive Leadership Team. With it, they make the best decisions for the business growth.

Meet irinabenatti

goat.travel

Travel Designer

I started my career in the tourism industry where I am currently advancing towards my undergraduate degree in Tourism and Hospitality. My first steps led me to work as a travel agent in different agencies, which allowed me to acquire extensive knowledge about destinations and tourism products. Currently, I am part of the GOAT team where I develop as a Travel Specialist and my responsibility is to design exclusive and personalized programs for our clients. My goal is to create unique and authentic experiences for each of our travelers.

Meet ornelafiore

Project Manager

With over 15 years of experience in the field of Marketing and communication, I have had the privilege of working with prominent companies from various sectors (Technology, Telecommunications, Healthcare, Real Estate, etc.), This allowed me to grow both professionally and personally, surrounded by highly skilled and talented individuals. Throughout my career, I have gained extensive experience and knowledge in marketing strategies. Currently, I am assisting GOAT in identifying new challenges and opportunities as a Program Manager, helping them effectively achieve their business goals. My commitment to the team is to provide personalized solutions according to the client's needs, with the aim of achieving positive results that enable them to reach their maximum potential.
