PERÚ A COUNTRY MEGADIVERSE MULTICULTURAL HISTORICAL GASTRONOMIC

Peru is a diverse country with an extraordinary historical legacy and rich cultural heritage, and a world-class cuisine.

Thanks to its impressive range of attractions, making it a destination for everyone, Peru is considered to be one of the best tourist destinations in the world.

Peru is one of the 10 most diverse countries in the world. You can climb the beautiful snow-capped mountains of the Andes, navigate the winding Amazon River in the middle of exotic jungle, or swim through the paradisal beaches in the north, all in one country. Thanks to its exceptional diversity, Peru has numerous different climates and microclimates, impressive flora and admirable fauna.

The history of this country runs through our veins; we are the product of a very interesting convergence of cultures, from ancestral roots that survive through Andean customs such as the Inti Raymi, religious festivals such as Corpus Christi, our Spanish heritage, Afro-Peruvian tap dancing and celebrations, Asian trade, and so on. The different cultures, each with their own distinct characteristics, exist alongside each other in a single society.

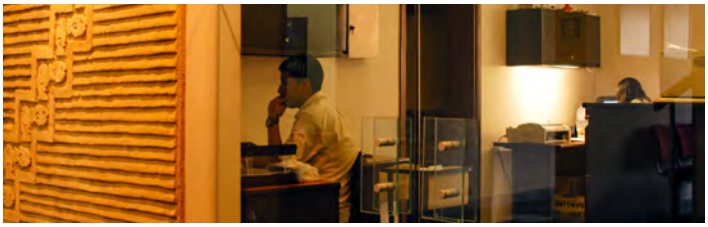

The citadel of Machu Picchu, one of the seven wonders of the modern world, sits imposing, in the heart of Peru. This mysterious site has become the symbol of Peruvian history, for its beauty, architecture, mystery and energy. In addition to Machu Picchu, you can find different archaeological sites throughout Peru, all of them with the enigmatic grandeur that is representative of the country's historical past. Thanks to this mix of cultures, Peru enjoys exquisite gastronomy. It has been considered as the best gastronomic destination in the world for five consecutive years. The fire started by our pre-Inca ancestors to cook their first dishes, has stayed alight over the years and has witnessed the transformation that Peruvian food has experienced. Peruvian cuisine today is a cultural-gastronomic fusion with influences from other continents, making it a whole new dining experience for anyone lucky enough to taste a Peruvian dish.

OUR SOCIOCULTURAL COMMITMENT

Proposals that seek to contribute to a country with a better future

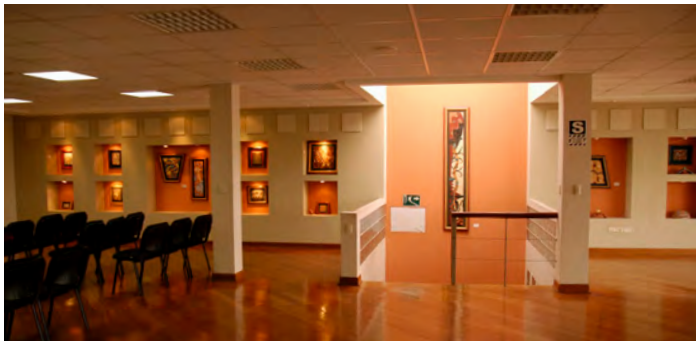

SOCIAL ACTION

Some years ago, working in the area of Chincheros, Cuzco, we noticed a high number of single mothers. Straightaway we decided to support these mothers by offering the best form of help, namely work. These mothers are experts in the technique of waist loom weaving, and we decided to take our clients to this community, so they can explain the whole process of creating the looms, from the shearing, washing, spinning, dyeing and finally weaving. This has enabled them to improve their quality of life, and that of their families and their community. Today more than 60 similar weaving centers can be found in the area, something which we are encouraged by and extremely happy about.

RAÍCES CULTURAL CENTER

If time permits, our program itineraries include a visit on behalf of your company to the Raíces Cultural Center, owned by Peru HCT Viajes, to see traveling exhibitions that have been arranged by our socio-cultural cooperation division. These exhibitions enable little-known artists to display high-quality works. During the visit our group clients will enjoy a small performance of Andean music, and learn to prepare “Pisco sour” cocktail. The Raíces Cultural Center aims to promote the history, art, knowledge and talent of our fellow Peruvians.

FAIR TRADE

We give away special souvenirs, handmade by Peruvian artisans, by real artists. By avoiding intermediaries, our contribution enables artisans to receive a higher income. We aim to pay a fair price in recognition of the quality of the work and the workforce employed.

A VERY TASTY PERU

Peru has been chosen as the best culinary destination in the world, for the fifth time (2016). Our company aims to promote Peruvian cuisine by including a careful selection of restaurants, and by encouraging visits to local markets and through Peruvian cooking classes (taught by professional chefs). Peruvian cuisine is, without doubt, an exquisite gastronomic experience not to be missed on any trip to Peru.

HOMESTAY TOURISM

Get to know the cultures at the heart of Peru

The richness and cultural diversity of Peru is based on the history, tradition and presence of its communities who inhabit a large part of the country and who are nowadays an invaluable complement to its tourism.

For visitors interested in getting to know and interacting with other cultures, the visit to the native communities will be a main motivation for their travel, sharing responsibility in the conservation of our cultural and natural heritage.

Our responsibility to these communities is not based on preserving a culture merely for observation. We seek to promote and encourage their inclusion and participation in the globalization process, by making tourism a complementary source of income, as well as a means of conserving their history and natural environment.

Several years ago, Peru HCT Viajes - Huaraz Chavín Tours S.R.L. began to work with the Amantani and Taquile communities, and more recently in the Capachica Peninsula with the Llachón community and others, supporting their projects through sustainable tourism. This involves using their homes for accommodation, promoting their textile, dining and other cooperatives in the communities around Lake Titicaca.

Based on this experience, over 10 years ago we began to support the Humacchuco community in the Cordillera Blanca through the "Huascar Wandy" Experiential Tourism project, by including it in our programs and working on logistics and infrastructure for the development of tourism programs and activities. School, agricultural and health are among the other areas we support.

Always in harmony with the environment and focused on developing sustainable tourism, we have now expanded our proposals and offer this experience in the Chinchero community, near Cuzco, in the Queros community in the vicinity of the Manu jungle, and in the Colca Canyon region.

- Flights in a small plane or helicopter: flights over the best scenic areas of Peru, such as the Nazca Lines, the Colca Canyon, the Manu or Puerto Maldonado jungle, the archaeological parks of Túcume and Sipán (Huaca Rajada) or return by helicopter from Machu Picchu to Cuzco
- Corporate social responsibility: exhibition and presentation of aid projects to schools, medical centers, parishes, or NGOs at our Raíces Cultural Center in Lima or selected local center
- Cultural activities: visit artisans, textile workshops or Inca cultivation terraces; excursions to salt mines, painting classes or intensive classes to learn to play Andean instruments
- Inca ceremonies - Andean Cosmo vision: Pachamama, the ceremony of paying homage to Mother Earth, at sunset in Machu Picchu, the Sacred Valley or Sillustani on Lake Titicaca.
- Inca Marriage: a sample of a traditional ceremony in which a couple from the group participates.
- Mysticism: Meditation in Machu Picchu or Lake Titicaca by a shaman who will introduce us to magical-religious and spiritual Andean rites. Talk and exhibition in the planetarium in the city of Cuzco or in the Maria Reich Planetarium in Nazca
- Souvenirs (with the customer's company logo): multimedia CD with surprise photographs of the participants' trip, personalized poster of the group photo, typical Peruvian crafts
- Health and Wellness (Hotels and Spa & Thermal Tourism): wellness session, massages and natural treatments derived from native plants using Inca and modern techniques; selection of the best hotels and spas (hotels with their own hot springs such as Laguna Seca in Cajamarca-Baños del Inca, Colca Lodge in the valley of the same name, etc.)

DESIGNING THE EXPERIENCES

How do we develop each trip proposal?

Our flexible programs are designed to meet the expectations, dreams and needs of all our clients, and can be complemented with any of our extensions in order to create customized programs. For special trips such as birdwatching, homestay programs, alternative, adventure or incentive tourism, river cruises on the Amazon, and trips combining neighboring countries and others, quotations can be provided on request.

HOW DO WE OPERATE IN THE DESTINATION?

- Generally, a minimum of 2 people is required, but we can also design trips for individuals
- • We design programs to famous destinations with daily departures
- • Some programs are fixed group departures with an accompanying guide
- • We use domestic flights with reputable international airlines
- • We take care of the selection of hotels in each destination, working with the best options in each travel category (Tourist, First and Superior)
- • We work alongside other professionals to ensure we can deliver a high-quality service and rapid solution for unforeseen events that may arise in each destination

DOMESTIC FLIGHTS

Domestic flights are not included in the quotation; there are two ways of booking them:

1) The customer books the flights directly with the national airline, at their published rates or agreed rates.
2) By booking through us you will get preferential rates. These rates are neither the cheapest nor the highest, but they allow for some flexibility and tickets are not issued immediately.

We should also mention that once the reservation details are confirmed, these rates may improve, as long as there are spaces in classes where offers apply.

ITINERARIES

- Extensions: a wider range of itineraries taking into account the country's most important destinations
- Traveler availability: adapted to what the market demands
- Reason for travel: proposals incorporate the traveler's main expectations: archaeological, ecological, ethnic, adventure, etc.
- Acclimatization: we take into account the country's geography when designing our programs. Visits are scheduled in gradual ascent, from the lowest and progressing to the highest. Destinations range from 20 m.a.s.l. to 3,820 m.a.s.l. and we will reach heights of over 4,000 m.a.s.l. during the program.
- Sequence: it is important that the progression of the route matches travel expectation (Machu Picchu is the destination that attracts the most interest and in longer programs it is usually at the end of the trip to obtain a better evaluation of the trip)
- Extensions: we have taken special care to ensure the base programs allow the widest range of extension options
- Flexibility: the programs are flexible and offer the option of adding or removing services; the quotes produced through our system are broken down for each individual service, an important feature when selling the product
- News: we are constantly updating and improving each destination, researching each change in order to implement it in the best possible way
