OUR LOCATION

PANORAMIC TERRACE OVERLOOKING THE GULF OF SORRENTO

Located within the Santa Fortunata Village, just minutes from the center of Sorrento, Ristorante Maxin sits on a promontory that separates the Gulf of Sorrento from the archaeological site of Regina Giovanna. Completely surrounded by thriving lemon and orange groves and caressed by a gentle maestrale (northwesterly) breeze, the restaurant's terrace offers a striking view over the Gulf of Sorrento; from here, you can admire the Sorrento coastline, with its famous hotels perched above the sea, as well as the harbors of Marina Piccola and Marina Grande.

A PLACE WITH A STORY

The property also features a unique vantage point of great historical and cultural significance, known as “’a pret ro’ munno” (“the stone of the world”). Perched high above the sea, it offers a singular and dizzying perspective of the surrounding landscape.

A BREATHTAKING VIEW STEEPED IN HISTORY

This is the very spot where the French writer Alphonse de Lamartine (1852) found inspiration and set part of his celebrated autobiographical novel,”Graziella”. Here, inspired by the colors of the sunset and caressed by the sea breeze, one can arrange marriage proposals, the renewal of wedding vows, or simply capture stunning, memorable photographs.
