Mingle with stars, VIPS and race track drivers and be amazed with the many super yachts and sports cars. Travel to St. Tropez on Friday for lunch, party at Amber Lounge on Saturday night and enjoy the race from our roof terrace on Sunday.

SUPER YACHT EXPERIENCE ON THE SHERAKHAN

Truly the ultimate way to experience the Monaco GP. Enjoy Formula One weekend and experience the best hospitality on board of one of the most luxurious super yachts, moored in sight of the principality.

We like to go the extra mile for you to enjoy the spectacular Formula One in Monaco. Sleep like a king in a lavish suite, have a champagne on deck and enjoy the very best culinary offerings served by the team of chefs The Sherakhan hosts up to 20 guests. It has a crew of 24 pampering you every minute of your weekend.

Cool off in the pool or dip into the jacuzzi before and after the race. A stay at the Sherakhan surely beats everyone's expectations.

For race viewing, we can arrange virtually anything. Of course, we have our roof terrace, but if you like to be the guest of one of the Formula One teams, we can take care of that too. Meet the drivers, walk the pit lane and enjoy a Michelin class lunch before the start of the race.

The oldest event on the calendar

FORMULA 1™ ROLEX BRITISH GRAND PRIX

Silverstone is located around 130 kilometres North of London with many of the Formula One teams located nearby.

In 1950, the World Championship of Drivers was introduced, and the 1950 British Grand Prix was the first World Championship Formula One race ever held. You can still feel the heritage of this race and the British fans are one of a kind.

The 5.8 kilometre track is fast and a quick lap time requires bravery and finesse and provides plenty of on track action for spectators. As the nearest major city is London, traffic and accommodation can be challenging.

Why not choose for a helicopter transfer and stay at the Coworth Park hotel in Ascot. Part of the Dorchester collection and just outside London.

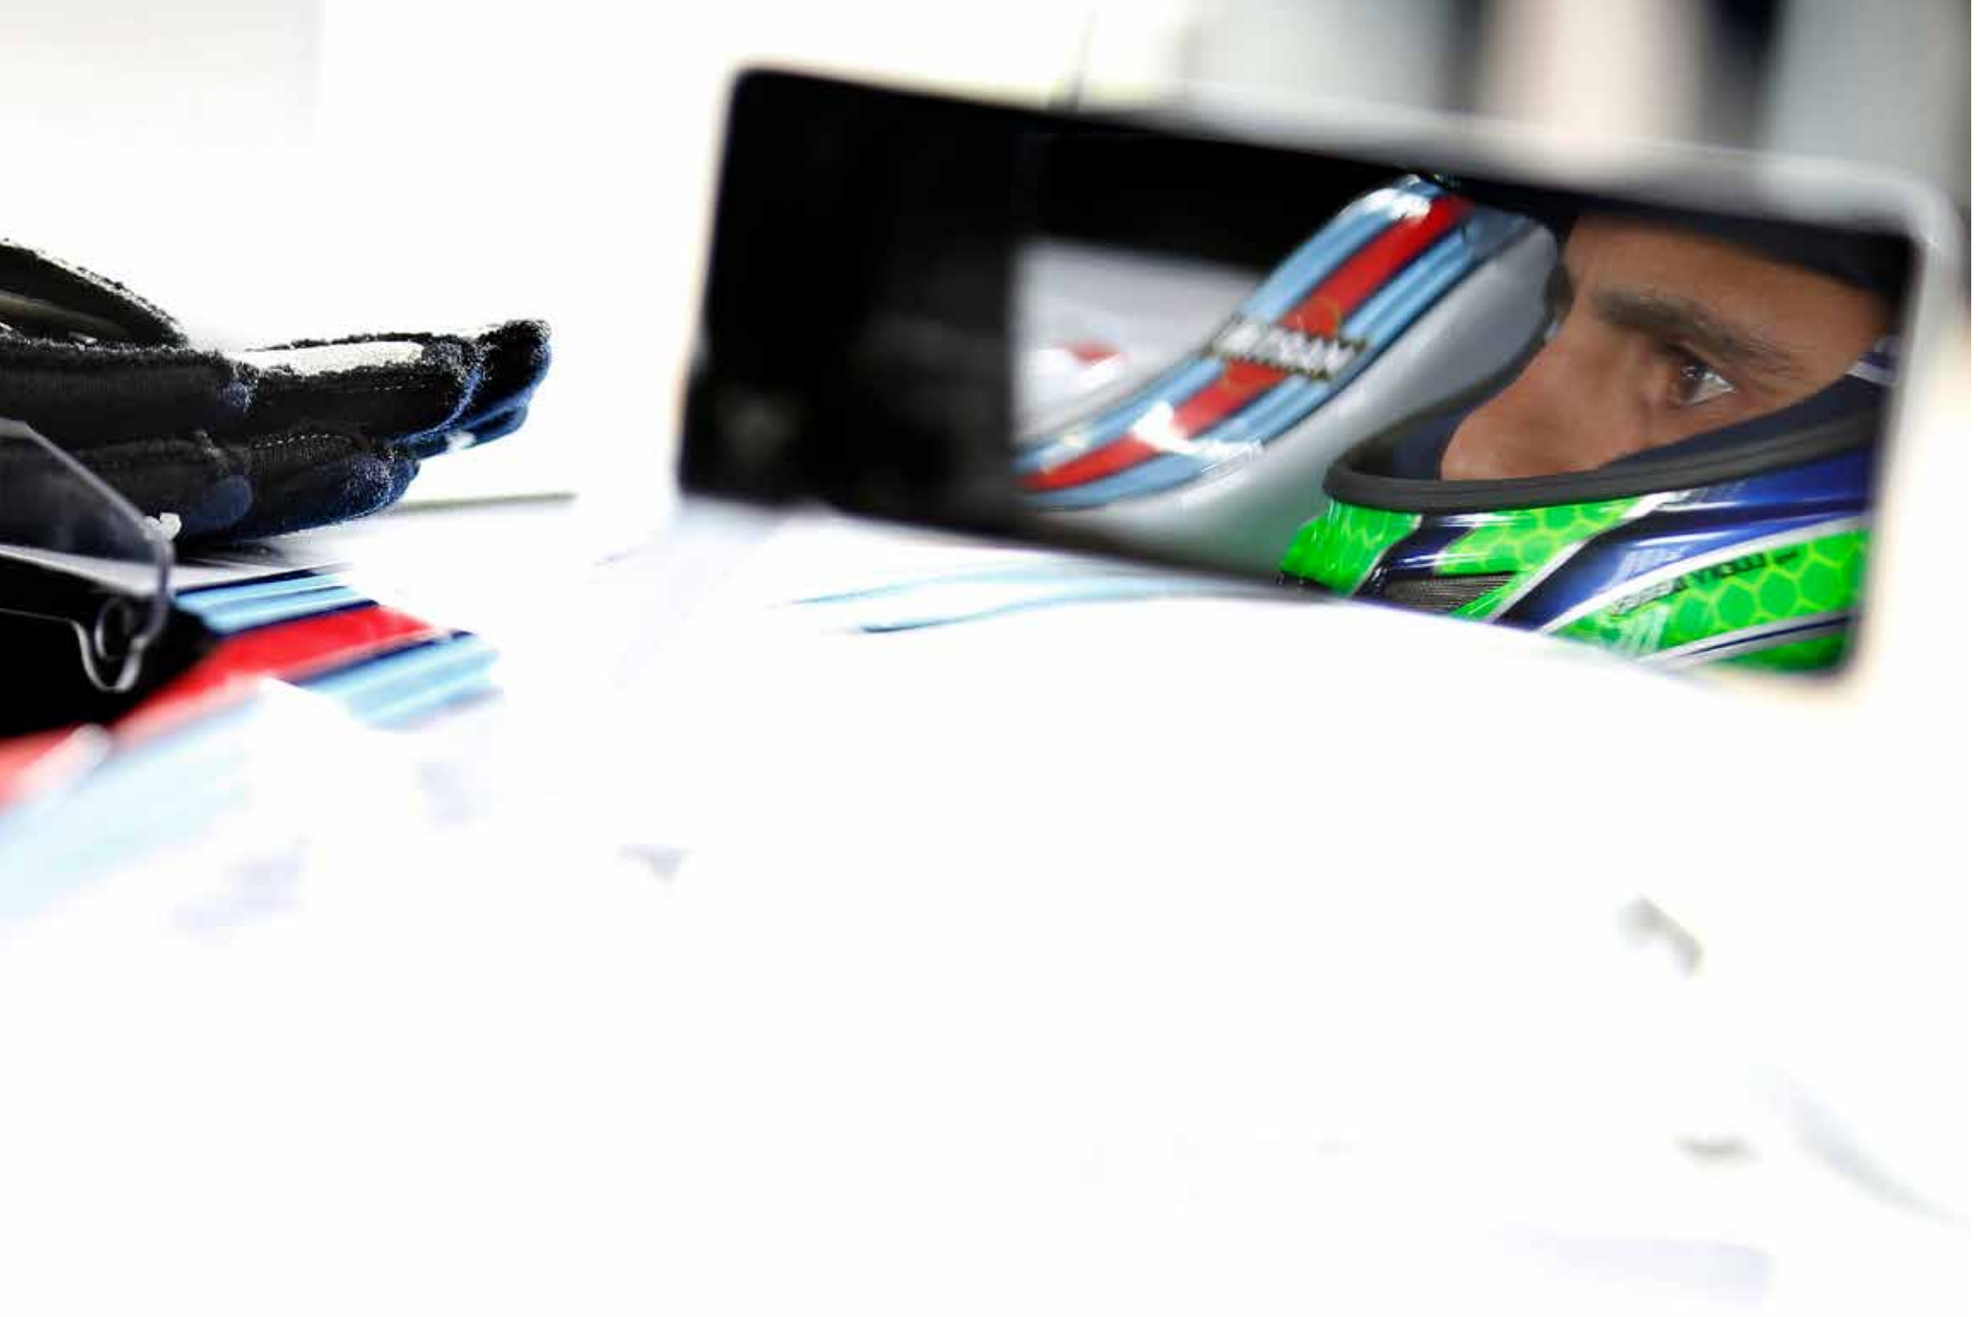

It's exactly what you'd expect from a luxury country house hotel with a dash of adventure. Great for corporate groups, special for families.

Take part in quintessentially English activities such as croquet, go horse riding or take polo lessons with Guards Polo Club on one of Coworth Park's two professional polo fields.

Yes, they have a Michelin restaurant. But why not dine at its more casual sister The Barn and keep your muddy boots on while sipping a Pimms at the fireplace before dinner.

Are you spending a long weekend in England? Combine your F1 weekend with a visit to one of the teams' factories. Or prepare like a Pro in the Red Bull Racing F1 simulator.

Budapest, surprising in every way

FORMULA 1™ PIRELLI HUNGARORING

The Hungaroring is located just over a half hour drive from Budapest.

Ancient Budapest might not be on top of your list of cities to visit; yet a trip to the Hungarian capital is surprising in every way; it has a great variety of relatively affordable luxury hotels, fine restaurants and night clubs but – especially during the Formula One weekend – the city also offers glitter and glamour.

Arriving on a Friday, you have all time to discover Budapest and its beautiful surroundings. We'll arrange a private city tour in the morning.

Go golfing in the afternoon, take the boat out sailing on lake Balaton and visit one of many wine farms in the area. Saturday night is party night. And you're invited.

You're invited to the Paddock Club. As a part of your arrangement you are taken to the circuit via 'Bernie's Avenue' – a VIP lane constructed by ex F1 supremo Bernie Ecclestone to be sure he and his top guest wouldn't get stuck in traffic on their way to the circuit.

Park on the VIP parking in the middle of the track and be chauffeured the last 200 meters by private shuttle.

No Dutch no glory

FORMULA 1™ SHELL BELGIAN GRAND PRIX

The Ardennes are known as historic battle ground, as beautiful nature park and for it's many wells. Among race fans however this area is mostly known for what Formula One drivers consider the best track on the calendar. And with 80.000 Dutch visitors, it's become Max Verstappen's home grand prix.

Visit the race as a guest of Red Bull Racing and truly become part of the team. Enjoy the race form their private hospitality suite, visit the paddock and get a guided garage tour. Have your picture taken with Ricciardo and get your shirt signed by Max.

For the best view, simply walk to one of the terraces on either side and have stunning views of La Source, Eau Rouge and the starting grid.

This is as close as you can get to the race.

The fastest circuit on the calendar

FORMULA 1™ GRAN PREMIO HEINEKEN D'ITALIA

The final European round of the season sees Formula 1™ head to Monza, home of the Italian Grand Prix, the last remaining ultra-high-speed circuit on the calendar and the stuff of which legends are made.

The Autodromo Nazionale Monza screams through the otherwise tranquil parkland surrounding Monza's Royal Villa.

Monza has been hosting races since 1922 and history lurks around every corner in the park, including the famous old concrete banking of the high-speed oval, long since retired from use in Formula One™.

Monza remains a high priority for race fans, drawing in spectators from all around the world – though with Milan a short distance away to the south, and the Alps around Lake Como on the northern horizon, it's also a very pleasant staging post for anyone wanting to see a little more of Italy.

Stay in the heart of Milan at the Mandarin Oriental, or at the Casta Diva Resort on Lake Como. Have a private shopping session in Milan's Via Montenapoleone or visit the Ferrari factory on Friday. Test driving their latest models afterwards. La Dolce Vita.

Make Formula One great again

FORMULA 1™ UNITED STATES GRAND PRIX

Keep your agenda blocked in October for one of the most exhilarating events of the Formula One season. The GP in Austin is as much about high speed and spectacular action as it is about enjoying the over the top show around the race. Expect the unexpected during the Grand Prix of the Americas.

Experience the power of motorsport's premier series, witness the passion and intensity of the world's greatest drivers and dance on the tunes of the most acclaimed and decorated performers of all time.

In 2017 super star Justin Timberlake and legendary Stevie Wonder will take the stage for an fabulous two hour spectacle on Saturday and Sunday.

Next years event also promises nothing less than pure extravaganza. During this extraordinary event, we will take care of you from the very moment you touch the ground to the moment you say your goodbye's.
