Slow tourism - Greece to be discovered slowly

Slow Tourism began to be identified as an independent form of tourism in the early 2000s. It was born as the result of an evolution in the logic of “slow food” and “Cittaslow”. It is a kind of tourism that Sensitizes demand and supply of ethical values, allows to get possession of time again, relieves anxiety and stress caused by hectic paces, allows the guests to be back in tune with themselves and whatever surrounds them, creates a new form of awareness thanks to a deeper and involving experience and thus emphasizes sustainability, responsibility and eco-friendliness” of all the stakeholders involved.

Mazi Travel has sensed the need for the development of tourism products aligned with the Slow Tourism logic and practices and has successfully operated numerous, tailor-made Slow Tourism programmes for customers from all over the world.
