3-Days budget Masai Mara Safari Tour, Kenya Detailed Trip Itinerary:

Arrival:

Upon landing, you will be collected from the airport, followed by a transfer to your hotel, where you will wait for the departure of the next day's trip.

Day 1: Nairobi - Maasai Mara National Reserve Safari Trip

You will depart from Nairobi, the capital of Kenya, and be driven down the escarpment through the floor of the Great Rift Valley, arriving at the Mara Serena Safari Lodge in time for lunch.

The budget-tented camp, nestled in a natural setting, offers a unique and adventurous experience. Guests stay in comfortable tents with double beds and en-suite bathrooms with flush toilets, washbasins, and hot showers.

These spacious tents have mosquito nets and private verandas for relaxing in the bush.

After a satisfying lunch, you will embark on your first thrilling game drive in the Masai Mara Game Reserve. The Mara is one of East Africa's top safari destinations, featuring incredible, wide-open landscapes and fertile riverine woodlands, following the looping meanders of the Mara and Talek Rivers in Kenya.

One glimpse is enough to explain its appeal; it is a typical open savannah with a mass of amazing wildlife. You will return to camp for dinner and relax under the stars, falling asleep to the sounds of the bush.

During your full-day game drive, you'll have the chance to spot Africa's 'Big Five' and many other wildlife inhabiting this vast Kenyan game reserve. From giraffes and baboons to elephants and hippos, the variety of wildlife will keep you excited and intrigued.

Cheetahs and leopards are more complex to spot but reasonably familiar to anyone with a sharp eye. Hot-air balloon trips, which can be arranged at an extra cost, are a unique way to view the savannah plains teeming with wildlife.

The ultimate action is, without doubt, the annual wildebeest migration in July/August, when millions of the animals move north from the Serengeti in search of greener grass before turning south again in October. Later in the evening, you will return to camp for dinner and your overnight stay.
