WEDDINGS

The four key points needed to ensure a successful wedding are: by having a clear understanding of client's requirement, having an acute knowledge on the type of venue, gaining knowledge on the type of guests who will be attending the event and last but not least, by keeping in mind the theme and mood of the wedding while respecting a budget.

In house talent excel at telling a client's story. What is imagined becomes reality…always with an element of allure.

SIMULTANEOUS TRANSLATION

We also offer the Bosch Integrus simultaneous translation system in our service program.

We have qualified interpreters who work on a regular basis.

Bosch Integrus is the world's first fully digital infrared language distribution system.

It manages to achieve what has long been the wish of many congress specialists: high-quality, wireless audio distribution which is completely immune to distortion from hall lighting.

By using a higher frequency band (2 to 6 MHz) it operates way beyond the reach of all types of hall lighting.

Furthermore, a much higher signal/noise ratio, plus in-built error correction, gives a crystal clear signal throughout the venue.

This loss-free transmission means sound comes out exactly as it goes in, which improves speech intelligibility and therefore leads to greater listening comfort.

All system components are easy to interconnect and configure.

The transmitter is hardwired to infrared radiators, which can be mounted on the ceiling, wall or a floor stand by means of an optional bracket.

With this system we offer the Canadian professional translation booths of the Multicaisse brand.
