3-Day Gorilla Trekking Experience in Uganda = $1,765

This gorilla tracking safari is the most sought-after bucket list of experiences, trekking Uganda's mountain gorillas in their natural habitat. This is one of the most unforgettable wildlife encounters in the world! Trekking may take anywhere between 1 to 6 hours, depending on the location of the family. It's a life time experience.

Arrival

You'll be picked from the airport.

Accommodation before the tour starts can be arranged for an extra cost.

Day 1: Transfer to Bwindi Impenetrable Forest National Park

The company driver/guide picks you up from your hotel and drives to Bwindi impenetrable National Park. This is a long drive of approximately 8 hours with a lunch stopover en route. Even though the drive is long, you'll go through different landscapes including tropical rain forests, savannah fields, and the terraced hills of Kigezi, famously known as the Switzerland of East Africa. Arrival is late in the evening for relaxation, dinner, and overnight.

Accommodation: Agandi lodge

Note: There is an option of flight from Entebbe to Bwindi Impenetrable National Park. (Flight usually takes about 1 hour from Entebbe to Bwindi).

Day 2: Gorilla tracking experience

After early morning breakfast, and with your picnic lunch we then take a short drive to the park offices for a briefing where we meet the excellent local guides and trackers who give a talk on the etiquette of gorilla trekking. We then hike into the forest to a spot where gorillas were seen the previous night and track from there. The terrain is rough and muddy calling for physical fitness. Although the hike is physically demanding, the beauty of the forest and surrounding scenery make the trekking worthwhile. It is recommended that you take plenty of water with you on the trek. Cameras and plenty of fast-speed films are recommended. Being a tropical rain forest, it may rain at no notice, hence need to bring with you waterproof clothing, including zip lock bags for cameras and film. Others to come with include; sturdy hiking boots, long pants, gloves, and a raincoat. The maximum time spent with the gorillas is 1 hour. Return to the lodge for dinner and overnight.

Accommodation: Agandi lodge.

Day 3: Transfer back to Kampala

After breakfast, start on the long drive back to Entebbe / Kampala with the memory of these great rare mountain apes. Lunch en route and a stopover at the equator line and Igongo cultural center, arriving late in the evening at Entebbe International airport.
