Activity Overview

- Prior to the event, a painting is designed that reflects your key values
- Each team has a blank canvas, a part of the whole painting
- Working with design information each team paints their canvas
- They soon realise that they must collaborate with the teams on all sides of their canvas in order for the final artwork to have continuity
- Once time is up, participants move to a separate area while the big canvas is constructed
- With a countdown from participants, The Big Picture is revealed to thunderous applause and delight
